About the Course:

What is culture?

The Oxford dictionary defines it as " The ideas, customs and social behaviour of a particular people or society". Arts, Culture, and Heritage have been approached from historical, legal, aesthetic and institutional perspectives. While exposure to these dimensions forms the foundation for education and knowledge in the arts, the task of creating a cadre of professional managers and policy makers who are sensitive to the trends imposed by the new generation of digital technologies and economic instruments remains to be accomplished. It is for this need that this course has been conceived.

Goals and Objectives:

The goal of this course is to provide insights on the management dimensions of arts, culture, and heritage for professionals and students who desire to specialize in this domain.

The overall objectives of the course are as follows:
